1. Hierarchical Layout — Amazon

Reason:

- The website is organized in a tree-like structure.
- It starts from the homepage, then moves to main categories (Electronics, Fashion, Books, etc.), and then to subpages for individual products.
- This structure helps users navigate through large amounts of content easily.

2. Linear Layout — Duolingo

< ENGLISH SPANISH FRENCH GERMAN ITALIAN PORTUGUESE DUTCH >

Reason:

- The learning process follows a clear sequence:
Lesson 1 → Lesson 2 → Quiz → Next Level.
- Users can't skip ahead before completing previous steps.
- This ensures an organized, step-by-step learning experience.

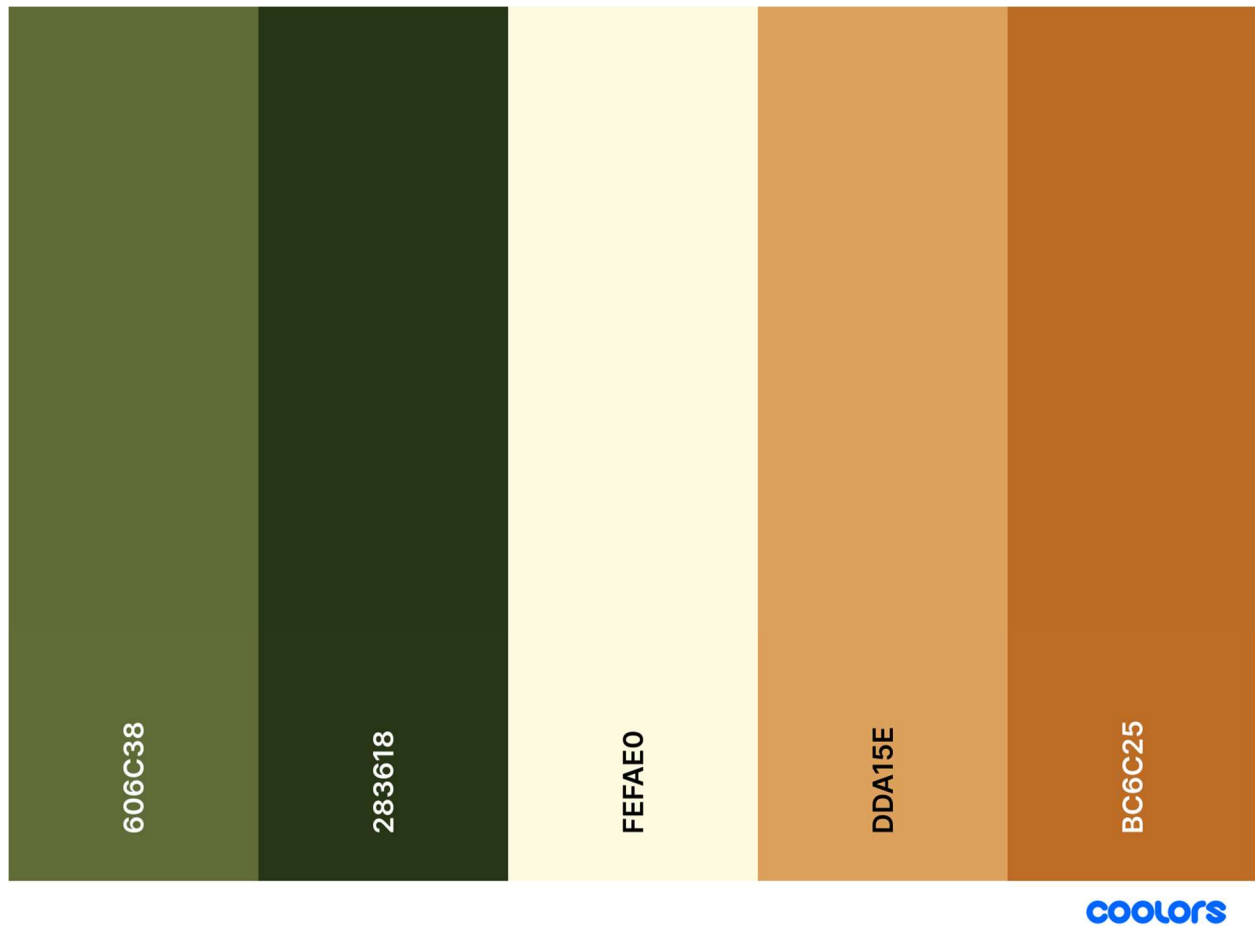

3. Random Layout — Pinterest

Reason:

- There's no fixed navigation path; users can explore freely between images and boards.
- The homepage displays a mix of topics (art, recipes, fashion, etc.) with no strict order.
- This layout encourages creativity and exploration.

Color Palette:

- 1 #606C38 — Olive Green
- 2 #283618 — Dark Forest Green
- 3 #FFFAED — Soft Cream White
- 4 #DDA15E — Warm Tan
- 5 #BC6C25 — Rustic Orange

This palette combines natural earthy tones with warm highlights, creating a balanced, modern, and welcoming design.

It works perfectly for:

Educational websites

E-commerce stores selling natural or handmade products
